Computer Guidance Acquires New Customer – Sachs Electric Company
Sachs Electric Selects eCMS For Its Financial, Project and Service Management Needs

Scottsdale, Arizona – August 20, 2009 – Computer Guidance Corporation, the leading developer of financial and project management software solutions for architecture, engineering and construction companies, today announced that Sachs Electric Company, currently ranked as the 13th largest electrical contractor by the Engineering News Record (ENR), has selected Computer Guidance's eCMS solution for its financial, project, and service management needs.

Sachs Electric Company is a premier full-service electrical contractor headquartered in St. Louis, Missouri and has a large national presence. Since 1925, the company has grown to become one of the largest electrical contractors in United States. Today, Sachs Electric has nine business sectors, each specializing in unique and comprehensive services for various markets.

"Sachs Electric was looking for a fully-integrated financial, project, and document imaging solution for a company of our size," said Rita Shiell, Director of Information Systems, Sachs Electric Company. "We are confident that Computer Guidance Corporation's eCMS solution gives us what we need."

"Service-driven organizations with a large remote workforce responding to many complex projects spread across numerous states require real-time and automated data entry, processing and reporting. eCMS is built on a single database structure where integrated service, financial and project data can be accessed by remote and back-office personnel for optimum efficiency." said Roger D. Kirk, CEO/President of Computer Guidance Corporation.

Projects utilizing one or more elements of Sachs Electric Company's full-service capabilities include facilities in virtually any industry. Current major customers are in areas such as technology, automotive, chemical, laboratories, government, data centers, industrial, power, commercial, healthcare, entertainment, and institutional.
