Computer Guidance Launches New Corporate Website

An Initial Step in Computer Guidance's Expanded Online Marketing Strategy

Scottsdale, Arizona – December 2, 2010 – Computer Guidance Corporation, the leading developer of financial and project management software solutions for architecture, engineering and construction companies, today announced the launch of its completely redesigned corporate website – www.computerguidance.com – as part of its expanded online marketing strategy for 2011.

The new corporate website provides a wealth of information for commercial contractors as they search for construction management software solutions and services to improve their business operations and overall productivity. The website proudly showcases Computer Guidance's feature-rich construction financial and project management solution and services offerings along with breathtaking photos of its customers' projects.

"We are excited about the new look and feel and simple navigation that our website has to offer," stated Roger D. Kirk, President/CEO, Computer Guidance Corporation. "We look forward to growing our business through an expanded online marketing strategy in 2011."
