Computer Guidance Welcomes Robert Shantz as Director of Infrastructure and Cloud Services

Industry Expertise for Continued Expansion and Growth in Cloud Technologies and Technical Services

Scottsdale, Arizona – January 12, 2016 – Computer Guidance Corporation, the leading developer of ERP solutions for the construction industry, is pleased to announce that Robert Shantz has assumed the newly-created position of Director of Infrastructure and Cloud Services for Computer Guidance.

Prior to Computer Guidance, Shantz served as the leader of global information technology and infrastructure for Kaydon Corporation, headquartered in Michigan, overseeing the execution and management of all technology and IT related activities for 23 locations in 12 countries. Shantz' role at Computer Guidance is to secure the organization's #1 position in cloud-based construction ERP deployment and technology solutions by bringing additional expertise to the organization's cloud technologies, IT infrastructure and managed services. Shantz will drive Computer Guidance's cloud strategy, bringing best practices and insights in this dynamic role and working closely with the company's data centers, service providers, IT auditors and technology partners.

"These are exciting times in the IT world, and CGC's Cloud Infrastructure and Services are perfectly positioned to help clients improve the return on their IT investments while supporting their business strategies," stated Robert Shantz, Director of Infrastructure and Cloud Services of Computer Guidance. "CGC is supported by state-of-the-art IT infrastructure and chief cloud partnerships that allow our customers the flexibility to meet their business and regulatory requirements while supporting their desires to grow vertically or globally."

"Our cloud deployments and demand for our managed services offerings are growing at a significant rate," stated Mike Bihlmeier, President, Computer Guidance Corporation. "As we continue to grow, Mr. Shantz will ensure our data centers, cloud infrastructure, data security and system availability exceed expectations. I am very pleased to bring on an individual of his caliber."
