T.N. Ward Company Wins Constructech Vision Award for Innovative Technology Application of Computer Guidance eCMS Construction ERP

Commercial General Contractor Recognized for Integrated Financial and Project Management, leveraging a single solution platform for all the company's business management needs

Scottsdale, Arizona – August 25, 2016 – Computer Guidance Corporation, the leading developer of cloud-based ERP solutions for the construction industry, today announced that T.N. Ward Company was named a 2016 Vision Award winner in the Builder/GC Commercial More $101 million to $250 million Category by Constructech magazine for bridging the gap between its field and office operations by implementing innovative technologies from Computer Guidance Corporation.

The Constructech Vision Awards acknowledge companies for their innovative approach to solve a particular issue and leverage technology in ways to make them more competitive in the marketplace.

"It takes more than just having the latest technology to stay ahead of the game," says Peggy Smedley, editorial director, Constructech. "This year's Vision Award winners are demonstrating they are reinventing how solutions are used, and are capturing a competitive advantage that will set them apart for years to come."

T.N. Ward Company, a full service commercial general contractor specializing in educational, health care, housing and casino projects, earned a Vision Award for standardizing and automating a variety of business practices, including payroll processing, job costing, subcontract payment administration, cash flow management, compliancy filings, project documentation and management at the field level, and consolidated financial reporting across all disciplines.

Subsequently, T.N. Ward Company was able to eliminate administrative overhead, gain project approval turnaround times, effectively manage increased workloads, improve communication among project stakeholders and enhance overall project financial performance.

"We work diligently to be at the forefront of how growth-oriented construction firms adopt and apply technology," commented Mark Smith, VP of Finance, T.N. Ward Company. "Integrated financial and project management with intuitive business intelligence helps us understand how we are doing today and allows us to plan for tomorrow."

"It is rewarding to see our solutions play a part in supporting our clients' business needs, helping them in achieving their goals and giving them competitive advantage in the marketplace," said Victoria Satran, VP of Marketing, Computer Guidance Corporation.
